

Databases	Brief descriptions of 2 subscribed WRDS databases
Thomson Reuters	There are altogether 5 separate data sets under Thomson Reuters database. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Lipper Hedge Fund Database: LHF is an information source for global hedge fund industry. Its coverage is from 1970, including quantitative performance data on over 7,500 actively reporting hedge funds/funds of hedge funds, and performance data on over 11,000 graveyard funds that have liquidated or stopped reporting. ▪ Insider Filing Feed Us WRDS: Insider Filing Data Files are designed to capture all insider activity as reported on SEC forms 3, 4, 5, and 144. Corporate insiders are defined broadly to include those that have "access to non-public, material, insider information" and these insiders are required to file SEC form 3, 4, and 5 when they trade in their companies' stock. ▪ WorldScope: Due to diverse financial accounting practices and highly inconsistent company presentations, WorldScope addresses this complexity by providing uniform definitions and standardized statement organization. Coverage includes over 80,000 companies in 119 countries, including full standardized coverage of over 30 developed and emerging markets. ▪ Global Ownership: It offers a comprehensive collection of global equity ownership data for institutions, mutual funds and insiders. Ownership coverage spans 13F institutions, mutual, pension, and insurance funds, insiders and declarable stakes holders and U.K. share registers for securities trading in more than 70 countries. ▪ DealScan: DealScan is extensive and reliable information on the global commercial loan market. It contains comprehensive historical information on loan pricing and contracts details, terms, and conditions. It also provides contract information for high yield bonds, private placements and hybrid financial structures.
PACAP	PACAP contains databases to track capital markets data for eight Pacific-Basin countries on a continuous and systematic basis. It also provides extensive information on all listed companies from each country's major stock exchange, including daily security prices and returns, capital distributions, financial statements, market indices and returns, and economic statistics.