Behavioral Laboratory

The Behavioral Laboratory is a valuable facility for your research.

Individual Behavioral Lab is an ideal place to conduct in-depth interviews or bargaining experiments, whereas Group Behavioral Lab is designed for focus groups or research on interpersonal communication or team dynamics.

There are a monitoring and recording system (audio and video) in each laboratory and a one-way mirror between the control room and the group behavioral laboratory.

A New Tool is Available:

Sona Systems

Sona Systems is an effective paperless, cloud-based research administration system for human-subject research. It improves and expedites the research process.
